Christian Endeavor Convention.

Buffalo, July 7.—Convention hall was well filled when the session of the state Christian Endeavor convention opened. Director Clements of Blenheim read a telegram from President Roosevelt conveying his good wishes. After the observance of a "quiet hour" the convention was opened with a song service. This was followed by addresses on "Bible Study," by Rev. John Robertson of Scotland; "The Juniors," by William Shaw of Boston, and an address by Rev. B. Q. Denham, state vice president. Several open air meetings followed.

CASTLE PARK.

Miss Pauline Hammond and her excellent company were greeted by a large and appreciative audience last evening in the western comedy, "Little Miss Nobody." Miss Hammond as the little maid did a very fine piece of acting and was generally applauded. Her specialties were much enjoyed. Nothing but praise can be given to Miss Hammond for her work during her stay. Mr. Roach and his May deserve credit for their pleasing specialties and the whole company is in every way worthy the patronage of our Barre citizens for nothing but a first class performance are given each night and no objectionable feature is allowed by the management who will always assure the people of Barre a clean entertainment. Tonight the laughing comedy "The Hidden Hand." Remember the pig contest and get your guess in early, you may be the lucky one.

Camille.

Lovers of high class plays and intense dramatic work were given a rare treat at the opera house last evening. The story of Camille, the coquette, is one which is thoroughly well known. At the hands of Miss Lorraine the difficult role received a most intelligent interpretation. Her elegant presence, sweet voice and careful work won for her continued and well deserved applause. Other members of the cast who deserve especial mention are Messrs. Lawrence, Trevor and Thompson. Miss Clark gave us a pleasing bit of character work. In fact the entire company gave adequate support. The specialties as usual were very entertaining.

Kidskin Waistcoat For Dress Wear.

"About the newest thing in men's fashions," said a leading haberdasher to a Philadelphia Record reporter, "though we will hardly see it here until the fall, is a waistcoat of kidskin for evening wear. It comes fresh from London, where it is being worn by the ultra fashionables, though by no means confined to young men. The material is white suede kidskin, and in appearance it looks just like the ordinary white evening waistcoat. It is not as warm as you might suppose. It is cool, in fact, and suitable for dress occasions even in summer. It will not become too common either, for the price is about $25. It is ornamented with white china buttons, with somewhat elaborate designs in gold burned into the deift. It may sound funny, but it looks all right."

Bones In the Body.

In the human body there are about 263 bones. The muscles are about 500 in number. The length of the alimentary canal is about 32 feet.

The Korean Diet.

Tea is almost unknown in Korea. The diet consists principally of rice, pork and dog meat. Beds are not used. The natives sleep on the floor, which is covered with oiled paper.

Valuable Catalogue.

The most valuable book ever published by a private citizen was probably the catalogue of the Walters collection of pictures and ceramics in Baltimore. Only 100 copies were published, which were presented to the great libraries and museums of the world. This small edition cost more than $10,000.
